

Daily Parish Communication

June 4, 2023

Good Morning!

~First Sunday Eucharistic Adoration following 11:00 AM Mass

~Divine Mercy Chaplet & Penitential Prayers 3:00 PM

1. Today's Readings: The Solemnity of the Most Holy Trinity | USCCB

2. The RE Corner with Jan Heithaus: We are all familiar with the Most Holy Trinity but of what importance is it to us except as a dogma of our Faith? Dr. Michael D'Ambrosio gives us some insights as to why the Holy Trinity is relevant to each of us as the Church celebrates this important solemnity.

3. Prayer of the Day: Prayer to the Holy Family for the Synod of Bishops on the Family, October 2014 - composed by Pope Francis

Jesus, Mary and Joseph,
in you we contemplate the splendour of true love,
to you we turn with trust.

Holy Family of Nazareth,
grant that our families too may be places of communion and prayer, authentic schools of the Gospel and small domestic Churches.

Holy Family of Nazareth,
many families never again experience violence, rejections and division:
may all who have been hurt or scandalized find ready and comfort and healing.

Jesus, Mary and Joseph,
graciously hear our prayer. Amen.

Holy Family, Prayer for Us!
St. Joseph, Pray for Us!

--

Linda McCormick
St. Joseph Catholic Church & School
1200 Cornelia Road
Anderson, SC 29621

Phone: (864) 225-5341
Fax: (864) 225-6432

The Most Holy Trinity

Trinity Sunday celebrates the Church's faith in the triune God, one God in three persons. This doctrine has baffled people for 2,000 years. Given that it is so hard to accept, why bother with it? What difference does the trinitarian dogma really make to how we live our Christian lives?

Many are ready to give a polite nod of some sort to Jesus of Nazareth. Most honor him as a great moral teacher. Many even confess him as a Savior. But the Incarnation of the Eternal God? Second person of the Holy Trinity? God can't be one and three at the same time. Such a notion is at worst illogical, at best meaningless. "This Trinity business was invented by the pagan Roman Emperor Constantine in 313 AD," scoff a motley crew ranging from the Jehovah's Witnesses to the Da Vinci Code.

DID CONSTANTINE INVENT THE TRINITY?

Of course, this charge has no historical leg to stand on. St. Ignatius of Antioch wrote seven brief letters around 110 AD in which he called Jesus "God" 16 times, beating Constantine by over two centuries.

True, the word "trinity" is not in the bible. But everywhere the New Testament refers to three distinct persons who seem to be equally divine, yet one (e.g. 2 Cor 13:13). So over 100 years before Constantine, a Christian writer named Tertullian coined the term "Trinity" as a handy way to refer to this reality of three distinct, equal persons in one God. It stuck.

WHY THE DOCTRINE MATTERS

But if the doctrine of the Trinity is authentically biblical, is it relevant? Does it really matter?

If Christianity were simply a religion of keeping the law, the inner life of the lawgiver would not matter. But if Christianity is about personal relationship with God, then who God really is matters totally. Common sense tells us that some supreme being made the universe and that we owe Him homage. But that the creator is a trinity of persons who invites us to intimate friendship with Himself — this we never could have guessed! We only know it because God has revealed it.

GOD IS LOVE – A COMMUNITY OF THREE PERSONS

God is love, says 1 John 4:8 (see too John 3:16). If God were solitary, how could he have been love before he created the world? Who would there have been to love? Jesus reveals a God who is eternally a community of three persons pouring themselves out in love for one another. The Father does not create the Son and then, with the Son, create the Spirit. No, the Father eternally generates the Son. And with and through the Son, this Father eternally “breathes” the Spirit as a sort of personalized sigh of love. “As it was in the beginning, is now and ever shall be.” That’s what the conclusion of the Glory Be really means, that the self-giving of the three divine persons did not begin at a moment in time, but was, is, and is to come.

PERSONS MADE IN GOD’S IMAGE & LIKENESS

If we are truly to “know” our God, we must know this. But if we are ever to understand ourselves, we must also know this. For we were made in the image and likeness of God, and God is a community of self-donating love. That means that we can never be happy isolated from others, protecting ourselves from others, holding ourselves back selfishly from others. Unless we give ourselves in love, we can never be fully human. And unless we participate in the life of God’s people, we can never be truly Christian either. Because Christianity is about building up the community of divine love which is called the Church. If God is Trinity, then there really is no place for free-lance, lone-ranger Christians.

FAMILY, AN ICON OF THE TRINITY

The family, the domestic Church, is a reflection of trinitarian love – the love of husband and wife, distinct and very different persons, generates the child who is from them but is nonetheless distinct from them, indeed absolutely unique.

And that is the final point. One of the greatest treasures of Western culture is the concept of the uniqueness and dignity of the individual person. You really don't find this idea in the ancient societies of Greece and Rome or in other great world religions, such as Islam.

PERSONHOOD – DIGNITY, INDIVIDUALITY, FREEDOM

The concept of the irreplaceable uniqueness of each person came into Western culture straight from the doctrine of the Trinity, three who possess the exact same divine nature but who are yet irreplaceably unique in their personhood.

The irony? As it progressively abandons the triune God, the Western world is undermining the very foundation of personal dignity, individuality, and freedom that it values so much.

Source: crossroadsinitiative.com